Year of Mercy Columns: Jan 17: An Invitation to Mercy

What greater example of God's mercy toward sinners is there than the invitation to the tax collector, Matthew, to become a follower of Jesus?

Saint Bede the Venerable, an English monk of the seventh and eighth century, said, "Jesus saw him through the eyes of mercy and chose him."

The tax collector abandoned earthly wealth as soon as Jesus invited him. He joined a band of men whose leader had no riches at all.

Mathew immediately took Jesus into his home and arranged a party, inviting the only friends he had—other tax collectors and sinners.

As they sat at the banquet table, Pharisees pointed an accusing finger. But Jesus said, "I desire mercy, not sacrifice. I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners."

Sharing a meal—breaking bread together—is one of the most intimate things we do as humans. When Jesus sat and ate with Matthew, it was a signal of His great mercy toward sinners, and an invitation to us to sit with Him at the communion table. Our prayer today: Matthew gave a banquet at his earthly residence for you, Lord. Grant that I set a pleasing banquet for you in my heart through my faith and love.

The estimated cost for all the dalmatics will be $4000.00. If you are interested in helping out by making a special donation towards this project, we would greatly appreciate it. May God Bless you and your family abundantly for your generosity!

How to Prepare a Home for the Visit of the Priest

When the priest comes to bless the family and the home after Theophany, the following preparations should take place:

A table—generally the dining room or kitchen table—should be covered with a clean white cloth.

On the table should be: 1. An icon or a cross. 2. A lighted church candle in a candle holder placed in front of the icon 3. A list of first names of all those who live in the household (as well as other family members to be prayed for, both living and departed), clearly printed on a piece of paper. Out of simple courtesy, these other rules should be followed: 1. All radios, TVs, etc., should be turned off. 2. All who are present in the house should come together and stand by the table until the very end of the service. 3. Those who are able should join in the singing of the hymns and responses of the service. 4. The gift for the priest (if any) should be prepared beforehand and it may be given discreetly to the priest at the conclusion of the service.

PRAYER FOR THE BLESSING OF HOMES

O God, our True Light and Savior, You have deigned to be baptized in the Jordan by John the Baptist to renew all men by the cleansing water of regeneration (Tit. 3:5) and to enter under the roof of Zacchaeus, bringing salvation to him and his house (Lk. 19:9), now, You, O Lord, protect also all those who dwell in this house from all harm and injury; grant them Jordan's blessing, purification of soul and body, and good health; and hear all their supplications, which are for their salvation and life eternal.
